In speaking to the assembly, the chair refers to himself/herself as "The Chair."

Minutes

Recording of Minutes:

Record what is done, not what is said.

Keep notes together in a special notebook.

Organize the notes into clear, concise statements and record in permanent minute book to be read at next meeting. Record each motion in a separate paragraph.

Minutes should be read and approved by assembly at the next regular or adjourned meeting. If the organization is not scheduled to meet for several months, minutes should be read before adjournment of the meeting or a committee may be appointed to approve them when they are in permanent form.

Final Form of the Minutes:

Should be typewritten or legibly written in ink.

Should not be defaced. (Corrections should be made by bracketing the erroneous portions and stating correctly in the wide margin.)

Should be kept in book form. If in longhand, a bound book should be used; if typewritten, a looseleaf notebook is used. Each page should be signed or initialed by secretary and one other officer to guard against substitution of pages.

Should be recorded with a wide left margin for corrections.

Minutes, when approved, should be signed by secretary and, if desired, by the chair.
